THIRTY-SIX THE TOTAL MEMBERSHIP

Owing to Searcity of Rooms Councilmen Are Having Difficult Time to Get Entertainment for Officials.

Monday evening the city council will meet and appoint a board of registrars. The city contains twelve voting precincts and three registrars are to be appointed for each precinct. The total membership of the board will constitute thirty-six and each councilman will have the appointing of six registrars. October 15 will be the first day of registration. October 23 will be the second day and the last day will be on October 31. All voters in the city will be obliged to register during these days. The meetings of the board will be held at places to be designated later. There is such a scarcity of vacant rooms in the city that the councilmen are finding it a hard matter to secure proper accommo dations for the board. While it is expected that the registration booths will be announced on Monday night, there may be some changes later. Last year the total registration was about 4,500. This year it is expected that the number will run over 5,000 on account of the rapid growth of the Making Summer Sausage. At the Cudahy plant the chicken dressing building is to be converted into a summe sausage room. Some time ago Mr. Cudahy gave up the idea for the present for handling poultry in large quantities and he decided to enlarge his sausage works. A heavy concrete floor has been laid in the chicken dressing building and the work of making summer sausage will be started as soon as the concrete floors harden.

After the burning of this plant some fnonths ago it was given out that the Hammond people would not rebuild. The sending for Mr. Parks to inspect plans looks as if the Hammond people intended to build a new house there. It is reported that the new plans call for a much larger plant than that destroyed by fire.

Arresting Suspects.

Chief of Police Briggs has issued orders to his men to arrest all suspicious characters. The number of recent burglaries has called the attention of the chief to the necessity for cleaning up the city, and he started in yesterday afternoon to round up all suspects. Six suspicious characters were put away for safe keeping last night and the police expect to make more arrests today. Even with the small force at his command, Chief Briggs says that he will do his best to prevent petty thieves from working here.

The Grand View Improvement club met last evening with a very good attendance, with President Sunblad in the chair. Mr. Groves of the street committee submitted a verbal report regarding a confer-

There were but nine street gangs at work now and one of these gangs was constantly employed in the First ward doing all that could be done with the means and facilities at hand. Mr. Lamieux submitted a resolution relative to the electric light and gas propositions, requesting the city council to submit a proposition to the property holders of the city to vote upon the acquirement of these utilities by the city and requesting the member of the council from the Pirst ward to favor the passage of an ordinance to this effect. The resolution was unanimously adopted.

WOMAN IN CLUB AND CHARITY

During the past week the attention o women all over the state has been directed to Lexington, where the annual meeting of the Nebraska Wemen's Christian Temperance union has been in session, and while in point of attendance the meeting was not what it usually is, Lexington being inaccessible to so many members, there was nothing lacking in interest and is many particulars the convention surpassed those of the past. Lexington in addition to having the largest union of the state there being ill active members, enjoys the distinction of enrolling among its honorary membership of thirty or more its mayor and every member of the town council and of having no saloons.

Under the chairmanship of the local president, Mrs. Louise James, the citizens eft nothing undone for the comfort and convenience of their guests and the evening sessions brought out an attendance that attested most gratifying interest in the work of the organization. The meetings were held in the Methodist church, the rostrum being decorated with the banners of the state and local unions and draped above with the colors of the organization-yellow and white.

Twenty-two countles and thirty some mions were represented in the convention recommendation of the executive board at a recent meeting, the convention discussed and passed several matters that, it is expected, will have material effect upon the state work. First was the decision to hold the meetings for the next three years at Lincoln. This was thought advisable owing to the fact that Lincoln is the most accessible place for the great majority of the members and with its facilities for entertainment should insure large gatherings.

Another measure discussed, but lost be cause it was felt by the majority that but a small part of the unions are ready for it, was the establishment of county institutes. It was recommended that these institutes be conducted by some of the state officers as a means of instructing the women in the various lines of work and hat to defray the expenses each county be taxed $10, which, it was expected, would be raised largely by the contributions of the two evening sessions of the institute. In the long discussion that followed it seemed that the women chiefly objected to the plan because of the difficulty of raising the necessary money, which they felt would be increased by the fact that the date of the institutes would be regulated by the state officers and might come at a time wholly inconvenient to them, they having no voice in fixing ft. During the regularly in all the countles. A recommendation that the five state officers be sent to the national meeting and their expenses paid, brought out another lengthy discussion, the recommendation finally being passed, after the matter had been once adjusted and then reopened. In the opinion of many, this expenditure was inadvisable as not yielding results in proportion to the outlay. It was thought that the officers would not visit the various unions sufficiently often to return to them the good of the convention, but it was finally decided that it would pay in the long run in the help the state officers would receive for their own work.

It was evident from the recommendations included in the annaul address of the president, that the county organizations recently established, have not accomplished all that had been expected of them and the Organized Labor Men Are Moving to restoration of the district organizations. previously used, is considered advisable. In later, to the effect that an amendment to the constitution would be proposed at the of the district organizations.

Mrs. Wheelock further advised at least one membership contest a year, in every sole object of the club will be to particiunion. At the close of her address, she was pate only in the judicial campaign to the presented an appropriately engraved gold locket, from the members of the local One of the provisions is that if the democ union as a token of esteem.

The following is Dr. Lyman Abbott's most recent presentation of his objection reach the work and that additional im- uted to the September number of the At-

The question, Shall women vote? if translated into practical and actual form reads thus: Shall women decide what are the rights of the citizen to be protected and what are the duties of the citizen to be enforced. and then are her son and her brother and her husband to go forth, armed if need be, to enforce her decision? Is this where the functional line between the sexes is to be drawn? Are women to make the laws and men to enforce them? Is woman never to act as a private, but always as a commander-in-chief? Is this right? * * To ack these questions is to answer them. The functions of government cannot be thus divided. In a democratic community the duty of enforcing the law must devolve on those who determine what the law shall be that is to be enforced. It cannot be decreed by one class and enforced by another. It is inconceivable that it should be decreed by one sex and enforced by another.

It might not be amiss to call Dr. Ab-

It might not be amiss to call Dr. Abittee to confer with the Park commission in the matter. The motion was adopted nanimously and the chair appointed feasure. Carr, Back, Lamieux, Castle and anderson as such committee.

Mr. Carr stated that he had talked with Mr. Shith of the street car company and that he had received assurances from him that it was the intention of the street car company to extend the Sixth street line in the near future, that the company recognised the necessity of the extension of that line and that it had only been delayed because of the inclement weather of the past season, which required all the energies of the company to extend the Sixth street lines in suitable condition to meet the public needs. There being no further business before it the club adjourned to meet Saturday evenculing who have taken up athered to their advancement. For instance, there is Miss Peabody of Colorado, the deaughter of Governor Peabody, who already holds a commission in the state militia, and another he state milit bott's attention to the fact that women letics with a success that enables her to outwalk, outride and generally outsoldler at least half of the six out of every seven voters who fail to pass the regular army examination. Yes, the women are surely coming to the front, and the day cannot be far distant when this last demand shall have been complied with, and the "right" and "justice" of their demands for the ballot can no longer be denied.
